

Fact Sheet

Overview

ComputerTime™ is parental-control software for Microsoft Windows that lets parents set limits on the amount of time and the time of day when their children can use the computer. SoftwareTime believes that the computer is an amazing tool for children, both for educational and social purposes. However, children need to have reasonable limits set for them, and that's what ComputerTime allows you to do, quickly and easily. Parents no longer have to keep track of the time their children spend on the computer, ComputerTime does that for them. It takes just a few minutes to set limits for each child. ComputerTime gives back to parents the control they need over computer use.

Benefits

- Allow parents to be present when their children are on the computer, especially on the Internet
- Curtail children's instant messaging addictions
- Encourage children to read more, or get much needed exercise, by limiting computer use
- Ensure children don't stay up past bedtime on a school night because they're chatting online
- Make sure homework is done before the computer can be used
- Make sure the computer is shared fairly between siblings
- Parents are able to monitor how much time their kids are spending on the computer
- Reduce stress between parents and children over the use of the computer
- Limit the amount of time children spend surfing the Internet
